MEDIA RELEASE

The Biggest Shopping Event in the Gulf is on again!

The 3rd Augusta Markets are just around the corner with this one set to be bigger and better.

The market will be held on 12 April 2014 and will be the first of two for this year, with the next one planned for 29 November.

Claire Wiseman, Chief Executive Officer at Regional Development Australia Far North has said that this Augusta Market will have another benefit to it with fundraising being carried out to raise money for the Country Fire Service, who recently greatly assisted local communities with battling the Bangor bushfire.

“Donation tins will be spread throughout the event so that market goers can dig deep to support such a worthy community and volunteer service.” Ms Wiseman said.

The Augusta Markets, an initiative of RDA Far North and supported by the Port Augusta City Council and Business Port Augusta, is set to be bigger and better than previous events, with plenty of entertainment on the cards, including a dedicated kids zone with amusement rides.

Registrations are now open for stallholders on the RDA Far North website at www.rdafn.com.au or to find out more information telephone 8641 1444.
